JAPANSPESIALEN 2011

Våre dommere / Our judges:

RITA KADIKE-SKADINA

I am an international FCI All breeds Dog Show Judge and I am also the President of Latvian Spaniel club and leader of breeding, since 1984. I am honored to judge at the next World Dog Shows in 2011 in Paris, and 2012 in Salzburg.

*Since 1987 I am judge and my first breeds were English and American Cockers and Afghans to judge.

*Since 1995 - Member of Judges Committee in Latvian KC.

*1996 - 2006 - General Secretary of Latvian Cynology Federation.

*Since January 2006 I am All Breeds Judge (Allrounder). First and so far the only one in Latvia.

As a journalist, I write regular articles and publications with my photos in different magazines and newspapers about dogs, other animals, astrology and many other themes. As a photo artist, I have given 7 personal exhibitions in Latvia and France. And I am also a professional astrologist. In 1987 I wrote my first book about English Cockers. And in 1998 I wrote a book about English and American Cockers with my own photos. Right now I'm working on my next book of Cockers.

All my life, as I remember myself, I had dogs and they are and were, one of the most important and wonderful part of my life. I am sure - dogs are the most beautiful present, what God has given us. My "official Dog history" begins in 1982, when I bought my first English Cocker - one of the first ones in Latvia. Before this, I had Russian Spaniels and other dogs. For about 20 years from my breeding were born several hundreds litters of cockers spaniels

I have judged International, National shows in Argentina, Australia (Sydney and Perth), Belarus, Belgium, China, Czech Republic, Cyprus, Denmark, Gibraltar, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal (also Azores), Romania, Russia, Slovenia, Spain (also Canarias), Sweden, Switzerland, Ukraine.

Also – Group shows of all FCI groups and Special shows of many breeds. I have judged BIS competitions in International and National shows in Argentina, Belarus, China, Cyprus, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Italy, Hungary, Norway, Portugal, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden and other countries.

I have good friends in American Akitas and very close relationship with this breed. I love this breed very much and judge it a lot in different countries of the world. They have been my group and also BIS winners. It is very special breed. I have very good friends - the best breeders of American Akitas in Europa, and I have visited them many times and shortly lived in one of the best kennels in Europa. I have seen, how they are born and grow up, in different ages, and later in shows. Also we had talks and discussions about of this breed and I have learned a lot from best breeders.

I have also good relations with Japanese Akitas and I have judged a lot of Shibas too. I have judged Japanese Spitz and Chins and like these breeds. And I have my opinion about all Japanese breeds.

Every year I judge about 4000 dogs in different countries. Everywhere in the world I am happy to find beautiful dogs and to meet interesting judges and wonderful, crazy dog-people, who very often become my good friends.

In February of 2006 my last and lovely dog and my best friend – golden cocker Boss left me – after almost 16 years he crossed the rainbow bridge and went back to Paradise. My life style and dog shows almost every weekend doesn't allow me to take the puppy again...It is very sad, but now I am no longer an owner, I am not a breeder, I am only judge and president of Latvian Spaniel Club and I can love dogs only in my club and at the Shows. It is my only consolation and great happiness.

ANGELIKA KAMMERSCHIED-LAMMERS

I have been involved in the Akita breed for 31 years. Since 1984 I was, and still am, engaged and responsible in different parts of the German Akita Club: Secretary, branch office, editorial for the Club magazine, Exhibitions, responsible board member for the breed, responsible for the Studbook, chairwoman of the judges and now President of the Club. in different parts of the German Akita Club.

In 1988, I finished my education as Special judge for Akita. In 1994 I finished 24 more Nordic and Japanese breeds. In the meantime I'm FCI Group 5 judge, specialist for Australian Shepherds and hope to finish FCI Group 10. I judged Akita for 22 years at shows in 15 European countries, Japan and in the USA and try my best to give support to the breeders who want them.

I am a member of the World Union of the Akita Clubs, where the European members and I try to give the Japanese an understanding of the European perspective for dog-husbandry, dog-breed, breeding control and dog-association. An extremely important point for me is the controlled breeding. While the European associations have a – more or less binding – breeding control, no comparable standards were known in Japan so far.

When I was 8 years old I got as a birthday present "Andy", a black poodle puppy. And I discovered Akitas after meeting my late husband, Lutz, in 1979. Lutz and I bought the American Akita and the Japanese Akita to show the people how the Akita looks in their countries of origin. We imported some dogs and breed for some years and we did it to push the breed in Germany. Out of our first 5 litters we have World youth winner and some German Kennel Club Bundes- and European Winners.

My judge assignment made us discontinuing the breed. At the beginning of the 90's far less Akitas were presented on shows in Germany than today, and it was pretty unsatisfying to constantly see your own puppies there – especially with all the chitchat around it. That made it pretty easy to put it behind us.

My all time favorite akita was my own Daigoh of Juntai Doh, called Chibi. When Dr. Ogasawara agreed to send Chibi to Germany, he arrived unexpected at my birthday and instead of having a party we drive to Frankfurt airport. When I took the 12 weeks old Chibi out of his cage, I was lost. I never had such a close relationship to one of my dogs before or after. He was not an easy dog, but to me he was unbelievable devoted and lovingly.

I'm glad about the split for two Akita breeds, because it made it strictly forbidden to mate them in FCI-countries. In my opinion this was the only way to keep the origin of each breed! For me it was a learning process all over the years. As more I learned about it, as more I understood why the Japanese demanded on their type and why the Americans would be well advised to do so as well!

I truly love the Japanese Akita, as well as the American Akita. Both of them produce really wonderful representatives of their breed, who enthuse with their phenotype and especially their nature.

Today, more than 10 years later, generally the American Akitas often have different head types and they are more or less heavy – in my opinion some too heavy - but most of them have a very good to an excellent movement. In Japanese Akita the head type is more similar, the heads are really lovely, but the movement is too often more than bad.

I truly love the Japanese Akita, as well as the American Akita. Both of them produce really wonderful representatives of their breed, who enthuse with their phenotype and especially their nature.

KIM VIGSØ NIELSEN

Har dømt mine første racer siden 1986, som var Welsh Corgi. Min første hele gruppe var grupp 5, har altid haft stor forkærlighed for racerne i gruppe 5 og synes de alle er mere eller mindre fantastiske. I dag dømmer jeg en hel del racer både i gruppe 1-2-4-6 men stadig er det racerne i gruppe 5 der tiltaler mig allermest.

Som Opdrætter har vi Lis og jeg har sankt bernhard og corgi, i dag bare corgi cardigan, en meget svær race at opdrætte men som vi har haft stor lykke med.

Kim has been judging since 1986, and his first breed was Welsh Corgi. Now he is judging all breeds from FCI group 5 and several breeds from FCI groups 1-2-4-6. He has always been attracted to breeds in group 5 because he finds them all fabulous for the most part.

He has been breeding St. Bernhards, but today he and Lis only breeds Corgis. A difficult breed, but still they breed them with success.
